Özet

I took my first step in programming by learning the java programming language in 2019 and then tried to improve myself in programming languages such as android studio, flutter, html/css/js, MsSQL, PostgreSQL, Firebase, and Unity. Currently, mobile application development with flutter and java back-end side. I am trying to improve myself by writing my codes.

I am a 3rd-year Computer Engineering student and I am open and ready to improve myself and add new things to my life.

Along with the software, I have been dealing with bodybuilding for about 4 years.

I can speak, understand and read English at the B2 level.
